

Urine Ca/Phosphorus Excretion

Kidney Services

Expand

Calcium and phosphorus are two important electrolytes in the urine. The concentration of urinary calcium and phosphorus will be determined using colorimetric assay (BioAssay Systems). The measurement for calcium and phosphorus requires 5 μl and 50 μl of urine, respectively.